Washington (AP)—The Senate passed a bill last night increasing the postage of ordinary letters from three cents to four cents and calling for other hikes to boost postal revenues, in all, nearly $400,000,000 a year.

The measure would increase postage on postal cards from one cent to two cents.

It raises the postage for ordinary airmail letters from six cents to eight cents.

Passage came by a voice vote. The measure, intended to wipe out part of the Post Office department's huge annual deficit, now toes to the House.

Other increases would boost the rates on newspapers 30 per cent over a three-year period and on magazines 60 per cent over a like period.

Charges for third and fourth class mail, and such special services as special delivery letters, also would be hiked by the legislation.

Earlier, the Senate refused to order the Postoffice department to restore two-day mail deliveries in residential areas.

It was the second time the chamber had passed on the issue.

The first vote came Thursday when the Senate took up a recommendation of its Postoffice committee that the postmaster general be directed to restore mail service to the level existing before a curtailment order issued April 17, 1950. At that time deliveries in residential areas were cut to one a day.

Senator Russell (D-Ga.) urged that the provision to double deliveries be eliminated from the postal bill. His suggestion was adopted by a voice vote of the handful of Senators present.

Yesterday Senator Langer (R-Nd.) moved for reconsideration of the question. After a long debate, his motion was defeated by a roll call vote of 46 to 17.

Senate Group Probing Loan

Washington, (AP)—The Senate investigations subcommittee disclosed yesterday it is inquiring into the dismissal of a government employee and any relationship he may have had with government loans.

Secrecy has surrounded the case since the Department of Agriculture announced recently that it had fired Jack Cowart, the employee, as assistant to the production and marketing administrator.

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan has refused to say why he ousted Cowart—a decision which Senator Mundt (R-SD) denounced yesterday as "smacking of a bureaucratic iron curtain."

"This case evidently has wide ramifications," Mundt told a reporter, "but we're going to get to the bottom of it and clear up all this secrecy."

Mundt is a member of the subcommittee.

Raymond J. Foley, head of the Federal Housing and Home agency, has announced his department dug up information which led to Cowart's removal. He said information came to light in the course of an independent inquiry into government loans to Capital Prefabricators, Inc., of Tyler, Tex.

Mundt said he personally has handed the subcommittee's staff "information which, if substantiated, would lead to some important people in Texas, some of them in public office."

The loans were made originally to the Texas firm by the Reconstruction Finance Corp. (RFC) and came under fire of a Senate banking subcommittee in June, 1950.

Make Recommendation

Washington (AP)—The Senate Appropriations committee recommended yesterday that World War Two veterans with more than a year's service not be called back to active duty, short of all-out war.

Woman Driver Must Take Test Next Monday

East Hartford, Conn., (AP)—Ready or not, Mrs. Doris Tatro must take a test for a driver's license by Monday.

She admitted to police court yesterday that she didn't have one when a policeman caught her going through a red light. What's more, she testified, she has been driving without one for three years.

"Why didn't you get a driver's license?" asked Judge Alvin C. Leone.

"I didn't have enough confidence in my driving ability," replied Mrs. Tatro, 45.

The court gave her until Monday to take the test.

Part Of Bangor Without Power, Light For Hour

Bangor—This community's Third ward was left without power and light from 10:30 to 11:15 last night when a metal advertising streamer broke loose from its moorings at the Bert Dally electric store and crossed two phases of current.

The freak accident caused a short circuit that blew out main fuses through which electricity is fed to the Third ward area.

Metropolitan Edison Co. crewmen made repairs and restored service within an hour.

Peiping Radio Cool Toward Site Proposal

Tokyo, Saturday, (AP)—Peiping radio today broadcast its first reference to the Allied note proposing Korean truce talks be resumed in a new location, throwing cold water on the proposal.

The Communist negotiators themselves were silent on the proposal.

The new note was lampooned in a Red China broadcast of a dispatch by Alan Winington, Communist Daily Worker correspondent now at Kaesong, the site of the now-suspended conference.

He asserted that Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's demand that the site of the talks be moved from Kaesong "is nothing but an impudent attempt to place the responsibility for incidents on (North) Koreans and Chinese."

Ridgway, supreme Allied commander, said in the note that if the Reds wished to resume negotiations, it must be in a place where there could be no interruptions.

Great Hurricane Turns Away From Southern Florida

Miami, Fla., (AP)—The great hurricane "Easy," containing 160-mile winds and kicking up 100-foot waves, turned toward the northwest, and churned the Atlantic 820 miles due East of Miami late yesterday.

The storm had moved west-northwestward. Hurricane experts in the Miami Weather bureau predicted the northwestward recurve in advance and believed the dangerous disturbance would continue to swing slowly around to a more northerly course.

This would take it over a parabolic path away from land. But Grady Norton, chief storm forecaster, sounded a note of caution. If the storm is too slow in its turn, it could become blocked by high pressure to the north.

So violent has "Easy" become that it thwarted efforts of a Navy hurricane hunter crew to fly into it at low level.

Sohn Named Winner

Harrisburg (AP)—An official count yesterday gave Judge Walter R. Sohn a 299-vote majority over Judge J. Rupp in their close contest for Republican nomination for Dauphin county court judge in the July 24 primary. The count, completed after 28 days of checking the vote, gave Sohn 26,005 and Rupp 25,796.

Pennsylvania Week Program Moves Toward Completion

Harrisburg (AP)—Organization of the 1951 Pennsylvania Week celebration October 15-21, was reported virtually complete yesterday.

Sixty-two chairmen of regional and county committees and heads of civic, industrial and commercial groups presented progress reports of plans for the observance to Andrew J. Sordani, State commerce secretary, and I. S. Sahli, Beaver Falls, 1951 chairman for Pennsylvania week.

"This will be a very successful Pennsylvania week," Sordani commented. "Throughout the counties more people are working on Pennsylvania week as committee members than ever before."

Sahli and Joseph C. Feagley, Lancaster, last year's State chairman, also expressed enthusiasm over plans completed so far.

The Pennsylvania week train will not make its circuit of the state this year, but officials are counting on local demonstrations of industrial commercial and cultural accomplishments to be enough of an eye-catcher.

Three Allied Units Escape Red Traps

U.S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Saturday (AP)—Chinese Red probing attacks, spreading across west and central Korea, forced three Allied units to fight their way out of traps yesterday. Signs increased that something was brewing.

The Red probing assaults appeared bent on limiting Allied patrolling in a no-man's land between the two main forces—and thus provide cover for any Red front-line movements.

So far no wide-scale Red battalion movements—an almost sure sign of an offensive—have been spotted. But there was report after report of smaller movements of Red platoons and even a few companies.

All in all, signs pointed to the possibility although not yet a probability of a big Red push.

Fiercely charging Chinese seized control yesterday of two key heights inside central Korea's Chorwon - Pyonggang - Kumhwa "iron triangle."

The Reds launched their last big offensive in May in central Korea, using the triangle as a massing area.

The furious fighting of Thursday and Friday in the west and center broke off abruptly today.

"It is almost too quiet," an Allied staff officer told AP Correspondent Sam Summerlin on the western front.

In the west yesterday, Allied troops struck back and regained ground lost to the Reds in attacks which officers said cost the foe 2,000 casualties.

Red troops up to battalion strength—about 1,000 men—repeatedly attacked Allied advance positions on central Korean hills just south of Pyonggang, apex of the triangle.

The Reds hurled artillery fire and a heavy volume of mortars. The defending Allies had to pull back about 4 p.m. Small arms fire drummed at them as they withdrew south.

National Disaster Insurance Urged

Kansas City, (AP)—Gov. Forrest Smith met with President Truman yesterday and recommended creation of a nationwide system of national disaster insurance.

The proposal would broaden the President's recommendations to Congress which cover only floods. The Missouri governor also defended his state administration against a recent angry presidential letter asserting Missouri and Kansas "have done absolutely nothing" toward rehabilitating the stricken areas of the catastrophic July flood.

While Truman and the Democratic governor of his home state talked, Kansas City returned to normal after a brief flood scare as the result of new overflows of the Kansas river between here and Topeka, Kas. The crest of the flood passed safely into the Missouri here.

More Copper Workers Return

Denver, (AP)—Miners and smelter workers headed toward a normal output of strategic minerals yesterday as striking union workmen obeyed a Federal court order to return to work.

No complete figures were available from the Denver headquarters of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (I.M.S.W.), but reports from across the nation showed production of copper, lead and zinc is being resumed.

An estimated 58,000 members of the union walked off their jobs August 27. Approximately 9400 returned when an agreement was reached in Utah with Kennecott copper and it was indicated the full membership would be working by today. As picket lines disappeared, members of AFL craft unions and railroad brotherhoods also resumed work in the industry.

May Bar Scientists

Washington, (AP)—Strict provisions of the new internal security act may bar 15 or more top-flight foreign scientists from two international meetings in the United States this month.

Probably a dozen, officials said yesterday, have been denied visas.

HERE IS A CLOSE-UP of Russia's Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko as he waged his losing fight to ensnarl in technicalities the opening session of the Japanese peace treaty conference at San Francisco's War Memorial Opera house. His demand that Red China be immediately sealed was ruled out. There after, filibuster tactics were adopted by delegates of satellite nations, but they failed.

OPS Permits Manufacturers To Raise New Auto Prices Average Of 5 To 6 Per Cent

Washington (AP)—The government told automobile manufacturers yesterday they can hike their prices of new passenger cars an average of 5 to 6 per cent.

The Office of Price Stabilization (OPS), in making the announcement, added that other price increases at the manufacturers' level may be expected later.

OPS also said an order will be issued permitting dealers to raise retail prices as soon as car makers file their new ceiling prices with OPS.

The manufacturers' new ceilings can be put into effect within five days as new price lists are filed with the agency. This means prices could be raised by the end of next week if manufacturers act promptly.

OPS officials said exact dollars and cents increases for each make or type of car cannot be estimated. The order provides a pricing formula for the industry. This will result in different increases for various manufacturers.

Officials said the increases might range from 3 to 7 per cent with the average running 5 to 6 per cent.

The agency said the retail order will allow dealers to apply their customary margins to the higher manufacturers' ceilings. One official said this margin varies but runs around 25 per cent. He estimated the increase at retail might run around 8 per cent over current list prices.

OPS said further boosts in auto prices may be expected under provisions of the new defense production act. This requires OPS to allow indirect cost increases, such as for administrative and sales expense, advertising and research. The current order does not make provision for such costs.

Mystery Car Hits Truck As Soviets Near

San Francisco, (AP)—A grim tip that a beer truck would crash into Andrei Gromyko's automobile and kill the Russian delegate to the Japanese peace conference almost came to chilling reality yesterday.

Whether the incident actually was a plot by White Russians to assassinate Gromyko—or only an almost fantastic coincidence of a highway accident—no one could determine.

But a big truck, carrying 6,000 pounds of bacon instead of beer, was overturned by a "mystery car" just a short time before the speeding Russian automobile roared north along Highway 101 yesterday morning, enroute to the treaty session here.

The Russian car, escorted by highway officers, shot quickly around the wreck at 70 miles an hour, and escaped a possible crash.

No one could say whether the driver of the unidentified car was a White Russian and an avowed enemy of the present Russian regime.

But, carrying the reality or coincidence of the crash still further, two large beer trucks were following the meat truck. Both were tied up in the heavy traffic which flows along the six-lane highway.

The time-table of the strange occurrence showed that perhaps the Russians' speeding automobile escaped a terrific collision with the meat truck only by a matter of minutes.

The tip to San Francisco police came Thursday night, when an informer said:

"A beer truck will crash into Gromyko's automobile on Bayshore boulevard Friday in an attempt to kill him."

The informer, whose identity was not disclosed, said unnamed White Russians planned the assassination of Gromyko, the Soviet deputy foreign minister who had attempted to stall the Japanese treaty negotiations here.

The FBI was informed of the tip. The Russian delegation was warned to be on the alert.

For an unknown reason, the Russians departed from their rented mansion at Hillsborough, about 17 miles south of San Francisco, some 25 minutes later than their usual time.

Usually they leave the place at 9 a. m. Yesterday it was about 9:25 a. m. when their car started for San Francisco.

But, despite the fact police had taken every precaution to guard Gromyko, the overturned meat truck clogged his path to the conference session.

Racing at 70 miles an hour behind the police escort, with sirens howling and red lights flashing dangerously, the Russian party veered around the wreck into the path of oncoming cars. All got by safely. Two cars, carrying newsmen, had narrow escapes.

Indiana Loses Fight Over Dole

Washington, (AP)—Indiana lost a court round yesterday in a fight to compel the government to restore $18,000,000 a year in welfare funds cut off due to a state law making relief rolls public.

Federal Judge Alexander Holtzoff ruled that he could not say the Federal security administration was wrong in cutting off funds to Indiana on the ground that the Indiana law conflicts with a social security act requiring that relief rolls be kept secret.

Judge Holtzoff said the state and Federal laws apparently were in conflict, but he did not specifically rule to that effect.

Russians Make Last Desperate Bid Against Pact

San Francisco (AP)—Andrei Gromyko walked out on the Japanese peace conference last night and promptly walked back in.

San Francisco (AP)—Russia's Andrei Gromyko made a last desperate bid against the Japanese peace treaty last night, after 48 of 51 nations had agreed to sign and all had heard a proud but plaintive acceptance of the pact by Japan.

Gromyko demanded to know how the conference intended to dispose of the amendments he offered in his futile attempts to disrupt the conference Wednesday.

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson, presiding, reminded Gromyko that at the time he had insisted he was not offering amendments, therefore there were no amendments to be considered.

Soviet Union Reminded Of Hitler Fate

Washington (AP)—A record-smashing $61,103,856,030 military spending bill reached the Senate late yesterday along with a warning to Russia that if she starts world war III her leaders face the same fate as Adolf Hitler.

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), who steered the bill through the Appropriations committee and will handle it on the floor next week, told reporters, "I am personally confident that no dictator lives who could have a better fate if he launched aggressive war against the free world."

He tied his remarks to reports by other senators that new secret and devastating weapons are "in a high state of development" by the United States.

Guardedly, he confirmed reports that "some of the funds" for the new weapons are in the big bill. "We are rapidly developing military power much greater and more effective than that which enabled us to arm the whole world in World War Two that resulted in the crushing of Hitler," O'Mahoney said.

Unborn Child Cries Daily

Hanford, Calif., (AP)—A young mother and father, startled when their unborn child began crying August 29, are now beginning to get accustomed to the infant wails. Doctors report the baby, whose delivery is not expected for weeks yet, cries almost daily.

The father, Frank Avilez, a 20-year-old ranch worker, was frightened when he first heard the sounds. He rushed his wife, Beatrice, 24, to a hospital here where doctors and nurses confirmed the rare occurrence.

The cries were so distinct, the woman's personal physician, Dr. Earl Hagen, made a recording of them.

Obstetricians questioned for an explanation said certain membranes apparently are broken, allowing the fetus to receive air. They said the condition, extremely uncommon so far in advance of birth, was not dangerous.

Mrs. Avilez has since returned home to await a normal delivery.

Lost Ring Found Three Years Later

Bristol, (AP)—Fire leveled Mrs. John Mocknatch's home in Newportville three years ago, and her gold wedding ring was among the many items lost.

Mrs. Mocknatch was puttering in her garden this week and found her ring. It appeared when she dug up a spadeful of earth.

She said it was in perfect condition.

Gromyko growled back that the amendments had been presented as part of the Soviet declaration, for study, and the Soviet delegation was entitled to a decision.

Acheson ruled Gromyko out of order. He said the only thing to be discussed was a motion made by Ceylon and seconded by Cuba to let anyone who wished have another half-hour of speaking.

All the delegations present had already had their say under a one-hour time limit during the past three days.

Last of the lot was the premier of Japan, who spoke feelingly last night of Japan's acceptance of the treaty and of her problems under it.

Premier Shigeru Yoshida, addressing the conference for the first time since it opened Tuesday night, noted the misgivings with which a number of countries had agreed, and then declared:

"Even we Japanese, who are happy to accept the treaty, find in its certain points which cause us pain and anxiety."

Saying that he spoke "with diffidence, bearing in mind the treaty's fairness and magnanimity," the little 72-year-old premier then expressed hope that the Ryukyu Islands (Okinawa) and the Bonins, now under U. S. trusteeship, "will be put back into Japanese hands in the not distant future."

Yoshida also put in a claim on South Sakhalin and the Kurile Islands, now occupied by Soviet Russia.

"The Soviet delegate spoke the other day as though Japan had grabbed them by aggression," he said. This, he declared, was not true: not even the old czarist government ever had disputed Japanese ownership of the Kuriles, while South Sakhalin's Japanese title was agreed to by the Russians as far back as 1875.

In his short but forceful speech, the Japanese premier dealt with every major point raised during three days of hectic discussions at the conference.

Besides territory, these included trade, preparations, fears of Japanese military resurgence, U. S. defense of Japan, Red China, the boycott of India and Burma, and the more than 340,000 Japanese war prisoners held by the Soviet Union.

"Japan has lost 45 per cent of her entire territory, together with its resources," he said.

"Her population of almost 84,000,000 has to be confined within the remaining areas, which are war-devastated, with their important cities bombed and burnt. The peace treaty will deprive Japan of her vast overseas assets."

Without mentioning the Communists by name, he said, "Unfortunately the sinister forces of totalitarian oppression and tyranny operate still throughout the globe. These forces are sweeping over half the Asiatic continent, sowing seeds of disunion, spreading unrest and confusion, and breaking out into open aggression here and there—indeed, at the very door of Japan."

That, he said, was why Japan would sign a security pact with the United States to keep U. S. troops in Japan "temporarily." Later Japanese self-defense forces, he said, "should not raise the bugle of Japanese peril—because Japan was so 'beaten and battered' she was unable to equip herself with modern weapons, and furthermore lacked the will to do so."

The Soviet bloc had its last long word with the 53-minute tirade of Stefan Wierblowski, Polish chief delegate.

Signature of the treaty is scheduled to start at 10 a. m. today (PST), winding up more than four days of speaking marked by the violent objections of Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

70 Area Presbyterian Young People Attend Three-Day Pre-School Retreat At Weygadt

Seventy young people from the five Presbyterian churches in the Stroudsburg area met at Camp Weygadt for a three-day pre-school conference. The conference was held to set the keynote for the coming year's work in the Westminster Fellowship groups of each of the churches.

Each day was crowded with activities from dawn until dark. Each morning there was a worship service in the outdoor chapel followed by private devotions. Then after cabin cleanup, there were two discussion groups led by Robert Bradburn and Rev. Huber Newton. A brisk swim topped off the morning and prepared appetites for lunch, prepared by camp cooks Mr. and Mrs. Richard Turner and Mr. and Mrs. Ned Copenhaver.

Afternoons were spent in hiking, swimming, ball games, and counseling. A swim meet was held on Tuesday afternoon at which Stroudsburg First Presbyterian walked off with the honors with 25 points, Shawnee being the runner-up with 23.

After dinner the young people had a fun time each night with folk games and stunts from each church. The evenings were highlighted by a camp-fire meeting by the river at which Rev. Ernest Campbell spoke, and the day closed with group devotions in the cabins.

Mr. Bradburn, dean of the conference, termed the Weygadt retreat as one of the finest young people's camps he has ever seen. "This year's camp at Weygadt has been a real success; there has been a genuine work for Christ in young lives. This has been due in large measure to the work of the counselors and others who contributed so much to make this camp possible," he said.

State Civil Defense Director Praises Monroe County Plan

Eight-Division Program Wins Recognition

Civil Defense in Monroe County, the revised civil defense plan created to meet requirements of the new Civil Defense law of the Commonwealth, "is certainly one of the best which we have had an opportunity to review," Richard Gerstell, director of Civil Defense for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, has advised President Judge Fred W. Davis, director of Civil Defense for Monroe County.

Judge Davis said yesterday the plan is the project of Byron Deacon, Buck Hill Falls, who offered his services and outstanding planning and administrative abilities when the Civil Defense system first started several months ago.

Only changes or revisions in Mr. Deacon's plan were those made necessary by legislative enactments dealing with Civil Defense.

In a highly complimentary and congratulatory letter to Judge Davis, State Director Gerstell added:

"If and when additional copies of the plan are available, we should greatly appreciate having several copies both for our own use and to show to other county officials."

Organizational details of the plan start with the county director, an executive assistant, various auxiliaries and the county director's steering board.

From that point the breakdown runs to eight divisions. They are:

Information and Training, Security, Communications, Transportation, Medical and Medical Evacuation, Family Aid, Public Works & Technical Matters, Supply.

These come the zones of control for the county, five in number and the final break down into township and boroughs with their specific Civil Defense units within the zone areas.

Three levels of responsibility are thereby established, namely, the county, the zone and township or municipality.

These levels have the following general purposes:

At county level to plan, to train all civil defense personnel; to make Monroe County in close contact with other counties for purpose of mutual aid; to act as a county administrative office for communication with the state civil defense office; to help and to advise defense sub-divisions within the county; and, finally, to furnish aid which are beyond the scope of township and municipal responsibility.

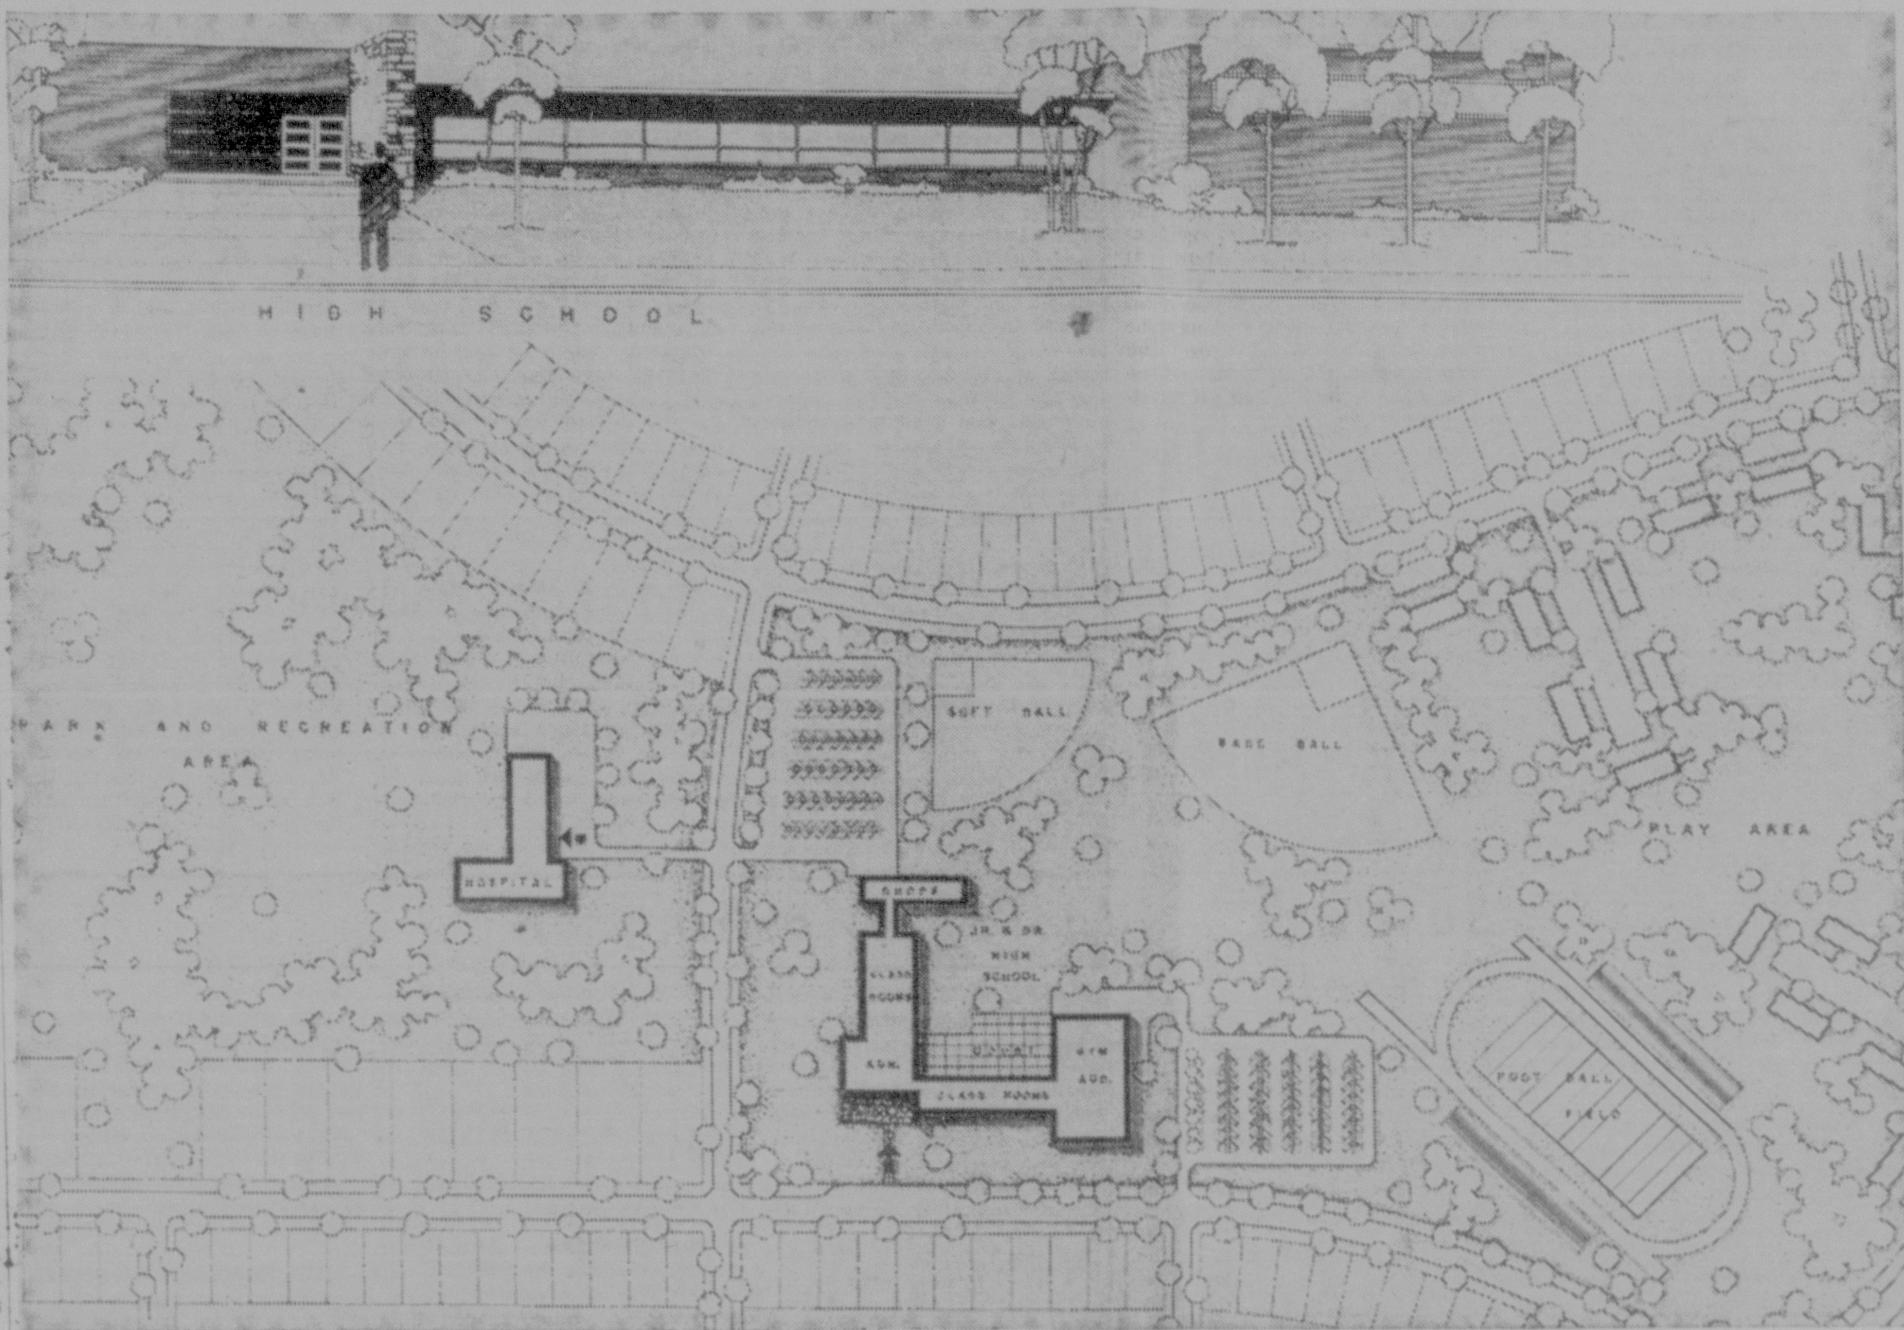

On the zone level, to act as an administrative center and a communications center.

On township or community level, to protect the lives and property within their boundaries insofar as humanly possible and to seek higher aid where this is not possible.

Specifically, the county shall care for all civil defense publicity and training; set up a communication center to relay warnings from state authorities to the zone communication centers; prepare emergency traffic plan that will insure transients passage through the county and keep defense traffic moving safely; set up control points; arrange family aid centers; make emergency supply arrangements; set up emergency transportation pool; make general medical plans; wherever beyond the scope of townships or municipalities, take care of technical matters and public works problems; recruit auxiliary forces and have them for any emergency anywhere in Monroe County.

The zones' responsibilities shall be to relay promptly all warnings, including air raids, from county to townships and municipalities; distribute civil defense pamphlets and materials to citizens within their zones; inspect civil defense matters and report weaknesses without attempting correction in their own rights; act as an administrative office which will pass along calls for help originating within their zone boundaries to the county level.

Specifically, communities and townships shall appoint such civil defense members as shall protect their individual citizens; set up a communications system—air raid warnings—which will be the final link in the chain from county warning to people; hold meetings and drills of civil defense personnel to train for their emergency mission; to participate in county civil defense drills; to keep traffic moving safely through their boundaries during emergency; keep the county informed relative to civil defense problems peculiar to their township or community; cooperate in every way to insure success of Monroe county's civil defense mission; to direct all communications relative to civil defense matters through the county director.

The plan maintains that problems and arguments between civil defense units of townships or municipalities or zones shall be discussed by the county director and his steering board.

A brief outline of the duties and organizational set-ups of each division follows:

Division I, Information & Training functions are: Through all means of publicity to keep citizens of Monroe County completely informed in civil defense matters and provide teachers and training courses for the use of all townships and municipalities within Monroe County on civil defense matters.

The function of this division shall be purely a County responsibility. It will not be necessary for zones, townships or communities to organize for this function.

Component parts include a director, school training program director, adult training program director, speakers bureau, newspaper, radio and general publicity bureau, and visual education bureau.

Any township or municipality is privileged to call on heads of any or all sub-divisions of Division I for the information or training of citizens within their boundaries.

Division II, Security, has responsibility of protecting the lives and property during a state of emergency and to protect people and industries against acts of sabotage. Responsibility is both county and level.

On the county staff shall be a director, police representative, fire representative, forest fire representative, Civil Air Patrol director and Plant Protection director.

On local level there will be air raid wardens, auxiliary police and auxiliary firemen.

Division III, Communications, must set up an overall plan for getting air raid warnings to all citizens of the county, by setting up the county air raid warnings office, and advising the zone air raid warnings chief and local air raid warning heads; and in so far as possible, to keep civil defense units in contact with one another during enemy-caused emergencies.

On the county staff will be a director, air raid warning center chief, radio communication chief and messenger chief.

Division IV, Transportation; general of this division will recruit and have available vehicles to be used in the public interest at times of extreme emergency caused by enemy action director or indirect.

It will be the duty of townships and communities to provide their own transportation. Transportation in the county pool will be on call to local directors unable to cope with the situation. A Poll Director will be appointed and liaison must be maintained with supply director, medical director, famly aid, public works and communications.

Division V, Medical must safeguard the health of the people of the county and such refugees which may become the responsibility of Monroe County under conditions of an enemy-caused emergency.

Local directors, insofar as possible, are to make arrangements with local physicians to act in the event of any emergency. County unit's functions include: render assistance to municipalities unable to cope with the medical situation; render such aid as is possible to refugees.

Organization will include a director, deputy director, emergency hospital director, emergency nursing director, medical field station director, dental service director and such personnel as each director requires for accomplishment of the mission.

Division VI, Family Aid is being taken over by Monroe County Chapter, American Red Cross. At county level functions are designed to augment Red Cross efforts to feed, clothe and shelter citizens of the county unable to obtain help at local level; and to handle in an orderly fashion such evacuees from other counties who will become emergency residents of the county.

Director of Family Aid Division is then liaison between Civil Defense and Red Cross Chapter and bend his efforts to strengthen the Red Cross work.

Division VII, Technical or Public Works, will function to restore public works after destruction by enemy action, and safeguard lives and property by technical assistance. Sub-divisions operations include: Debris Clearance and Demolition, Engineer Services, Utilities, Personnel Services.

Division VIII, Supply, must at county level have emergency supplies available to local directors unable to cope with a local situation.

In this division there will be a director, food director, fuel director, clothing director and farm product director.

South Stroudsburg Parents Arrange To Transport Pupils

South Stroudsburg parents of children attending local schools, particularly elementary students going to the Morey School, have initiated a plan to provide bus services for their youngsters starting Monday morning.

Les Drake, owner-operator of Delaware Valley Transportation Company, said last night he had completed arrangements for bus service for all the youngsters at $1 a week per child.

He will issue a weekly pass for that amount and pick up children from every street corner in South Stroudsburg starting at 8:15 a.m. The pass includes return of the children from school at 3:30 p.m.

Parents had protested transfer of their children from Ramsey to the Morey school, at a recent meeting of the board of school directors because of traffic hazards for pedestrian children.

A few days ago a group of parents banded together and investigated use of a special bus with a weekly pass fee covering two trips a day, four days a week. The Monday morning experiment with the cooperation of Mr. Drake is the result.

Woman Hurt In Accident

One person was injured and damages totaling $800 resulted from a two-car accident on Route 209 in Hamilton Township at 7:30 p.m. yesterday.

State police said Minnie Hartman, 46, Stroudsburg RD, was treated for lacerations to the forehead at General hospital and discharged. She was a passenger in a car operated by William C. Lennen, 4507 Griscom St., Philadelphia.

Police said Lennen was moving east and slowed down at the crest of a grade to look at a house on the left side of the road. They said a car operated by Steward Felker, Jr., 35, Thomas St., in Stroudsburg came over the crest and collided with the rear of Lennen's car.

Police Investigate Reported Assault-Robbery Of Driver, Run Smack Into Complications

Portland—A whirlwind investigation conducted by local and State police and Lackawanna county detectives into an alleged assault and robbery first believed to have occurred here, wound up late yesterday with the victim clarifying his statement to indicate the whole thing happened along Route 8 in New Jersey not far from the Columbia-Portland covered bridge.

Complicating the inquiry, started by Chief of Police Jess Felker of Portland and Cpl. Niles A. Gibbons of Bethlehem State police barracks, was the sudden disappearance of Jerome Juklinski, 27, 1147 Sloan St., Scranton, the alleged victim.

Juklinski left General hospital about 11:45 a.m. yesterday and taxied to his station wagon along Route 611 near Slateford. He drove away State police broadcast an alarm and Juklinski was detained by State police at Daleville sub-station. Here Felker and Gibbons called in County Detective Edward Rogan of Lackawanna county.

Felker said he was first called to a point above Portland by a report there had been a wreck. He said he found the station wagon and Juklinski. The latter was battered and had a severe wound over the right eye, Felker said.

The officer said he feared at first Juklinski's eye might be damaged and took the Scranton man to Dr. T. I. Metzgar and then to the hospital for X-rays and treatment.

Felker said Juklinski said he had been attacked by two men and robbed of about $60 to $70. The officer said the windshield on the station wagon was broken four or five places by blows from the inside and the right side glass broken by blows from the outside.

Gaining the impression from Juklinski that he was robbed after he left the Pennsylvania side of the covered bridge, Felker called State Police.

Later, after State police at Daleville stopped Juklinski for questioning, Felker said Juklinski told them the assault and robbery took place while he was parked under a tree along Route 8 near Pondsill, some distance from the Columbia side of the bridge.

Juklinski told police before his release at Daleville he had taken a man named Sharkey with him on a trip to New York. He left Sharkey off around Jersey City and was to have picked him up for the return trip after seeing a ball game. He failed to contact Sharkey, police said.

Felker said a check at the spot where Juklinski said the assault and robbery occurred showed no tire tracks, apparently because rain had washed them out.

A replacement has been selected, but pending acceptance, identity of the new zone director was not announced. Zone Two covers Stroud, Pocono and Hamilton townships.

The Mayor And The Police

Now that Officer Charles Allen has been reinstated with full pay by Stroudsburg Council, after having jailed Stroudsburg's mayor following an alleged altercation over whether or not a truck should be allowed to proceed on South Seventh Street, between Ann and Main, this newspaper has a comment or two with recommendations which we think will be good for the borough, for the mayor and for the future conduct of the police department.

We recognize that under the law the mayor is head of the borough's law enforcement department. He is entitled to tell the police when, where and how to work. Nothing in the law that we have heard of gives the mayor the right to act as a policeman, especially without uniform or other identifying insignia.

We think his exercise of his law-given powers should be confined to conferences with the Chief of Police, especially in cases of dereliction of duty or any other infraction of proper police procedure which may come to his attention.

We feel that he and no one else is responsible for the situation which resulted in the "pushing match" which landed him in the borough house-gow by reason of his failure to respect the rights and dignity of a capable, properly constituted police officer in the performance of his duty.

We recommend that the exercise of police powers be solely the job of the Chief of Police and his subordinates until such time as their operations in that department may be found defective. If and when that happens, that is the time for the mayor to act, or the time for any citizen to exercise his or her prerogative to voice displeasure officially to the mayor.

In other words, let the mayor do the "mayoring," and the police do the "policing." Then the dignity and good name of the Borough of Stroudsburg will not be shattered by unseemly altercations.

Fewer Rich, Less Riches

When a Socialist defends the private profit system, that is news.

It happened at Blackpool, England, when Britain's Socialist Chancellor of the Exchequer, Hugh Gaitskell, faced a sullen, skeptical Congress of Trades Unionists, to answer a demand for a "soak the rich" tax program.

He said industry must have profits to finance itself. Take away any more of these profits, he declared, and you might kill the goose that lays the golden eggs for British Labor. He squeaked with cold statistics the clamor to increase the taxes on the rich so that taxes could be reduced for the poor.

Mr. Gaitskell said there were not enough rich left in England to make such a plan feasible. He cited figures to show that even if the government reduced industry's dividends by as much as 25 per cent, it would provide only enough money to add 20 cents to the pay checks of those earning $18 a week.

Since this demonstrated fact left little room for argument or further wishful thinking, Mr. Gaitskell bluntly told his audience of trades union delegates that if they wanted higher wages they would have to work harder and produce more.

Which indicates a better understanding of the fundamentals of economy than the British Socialists had six years ago, when they took office, holding to the theory that all of Britain's problems could be solved by the nationalization of industry.

At the base of California's Mount St. Helena there is a petrified forest of redwood trees felled many millions of years ago. They are exact replicas in tone of the living redwoods.

Try And Stop Me

The malicious spouse of an up-state banker gave a hen party for all the old maids in her circle. She told each to bring along a photograph of the man who tried the hardest to woo and win her. Every old maid complied with her request — and every one brought the same photograph: a portrait of the hostess' husband.

Hollywood

By Gene Handsaker

Hollywood — David and Bathsheba is smooching, struggling, and spectacle on a big scale in color. The tribulations of Israel's ex-shepherd-king and his married sweetheart are imaginatively based on Chapters 11 and 12 of the Second Book of Samuel.

The two-hour film is rich in costumes, extras, settings, and acting talent. But the heavy emphasis on sex and the theme that adultery does not pay are familiar ingredients.

King David (Gregory Peck) and his beautiful neighbor Bathsheba (Susan Hayward) fall in love. Bathsheba, whose husband is off to the wars, finds herself with child.

David, to forestall suspicion, calls her husband Uriah home from the front. But Uriah, devoted soldier, denies himself home life while his comrades are still in battle. David sends him back to the hottest part of the fight to die.

God, displeased with David and Bathsheba's sins, scourges the land with drought and famine. The bearded prophet Nathan (Raymond Massey), tipped off by David's shrewish wife Michael (Jayne Meadows), denounces David. The mob is ready to stone Bathsheba like any other adulteress of the time. But David prays fervently to God. The rain falls. The repentant sinners presumably are forgiven.

Maybe unknown actors would be more believable in such a glossy amplification of 3,000-year-old Biblical history. Certainly they would be less attractive at the box-office. But it's hard to forget that Peck is currently swashbuckling on movie screens as Capt. Horatio Hornblower. Or that Miss Hayward recently was the revealingly draped model in "I Can Get It For You Whole-sale."

Holy Land scenes were filmed in the hills near Nogales, Ariz. Twentieth Century-Fox says 2,000 Mexicans doubled as Israelites, Philistines, and Ammonite soldiers.

These Days — By George E. Sokolsky

Sokolsky

The Risk-Taker — Since 1900, an annual average of only 78 out of every 10,000 business concerns failed, no matter how started or by whom. Dun and Bradstreet, the mercantile agency which devotes itself to statistics of this nature, reports that for the year 1950, there were only 34 failures in every 10,000 business concerns. The very worst year in this century was 1932 with 154 failures per 10,000.

In other words, whether those who start a business are experienced or not, whether they have ample capital, whether it is a small, medium or large size business, under the American capitalist system, in which the individual devotes his time and money, at his own discretion and risk, the number of those who fail is so small as to be hardly important in the general picture.

It is interesting to note that failures ran higher in the years between 1924 and 1933. In a word, they were numerous during the years of so-called prosperity and depression. Both periods represented abnormal economic situations and therefore produced failures.

Sunday School Lesson

Scripture — Matthew 18:15-20; Acts 4:31-37 — Philipians 1:27-2:11; I John 3:16-24.

By Newman Campbell

This is the story of what Jesus said about conduct of life in the church; and of how the members lived after the church was founded. It also tells us of Paul and John's advice on the Christian way of living.

The words of Jesus were uttered near Capernaum when the apostles had been disputing among themselves as to whom should be the greater in the Kingdom of heaven. Jesus rebuked them, you remember, by putting a little child in their midst and saying that unless they could become as the little child in spirit, they could not even enter into that kingdom; and also that he who would be greatest should be willing to be the servant of all.

Jesus only used the word "church" twice during His ministry. St. Matthew tells us that He said: "If thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone; if he hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother."

If the brother would not admit his fault, the member was to take two or more friends and try to get the brother to make amends. If that failed, the matter should be taken to the church. Failing to get an admission of guilt and atonement, the brother was then to be cast out from the brotherhood.

In recent lessons we have been given the story of the community living of the early church members, mostly Jews in Jerusalem. St. Luke tells us that "the multitude of them that believed was of one heart, and of one soul; neither said any of them that ought of the things which he possessed was his own; but they had all things in common."

None wanted for anything, for "distribution was made unto every man according as he had need." One, Jesus, or Joseph, had a piece of land which he sold, and "brought the money and laid it at the apostles' feet."

Unlike the young man who had great possessions, but could not bring himself to part with them, and so went sorrowfully away, Joseph gave all he had and lived happily with his brother church members.

Paul, writing to the Philipians, gave an ideal picture of how Christians should behave:

"Only let your conversation be as it becometh the gospel of Christ; that, whether I come and see you, or else be absent, I may hear of your affairs, that ye stand fast in one spirit with one mind, striving together for the faith of the gospel."

"And in nothing terrified by your adversaries: which is to them an evident token of perdition, but to you of salvation, and that of God. For unto you it is given in behalf of Christ not only to believe on Him, but also to suffer for His sake."

Again: "Fulfill ye my joy, that ye be like-minded, having the same love, being of one accord, of one mind. Let nothing be done through strife or vainglory; but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves."

Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others. "Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus, who, being in the form of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God; but made Himself of no reputation, and took upon Himself the form of a servant; and was made in the likeness of men; and being found in fashion as a man, He humbled Himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross."

"Wherefore, God also hath highly exalted Him, and given Him a name above every name: That, whosoever shall confess Him as Lord, and shall believe on His name, shall have eternal life. And whoso shall offend one of these my brethren, which are of small faith, he shall offend against Me, and shall be damned. And whoso shall offend against Me, shall be damned. And whoso shall offend against Me, shall be damned."

"My little children, let us love in word and truth."

riods represented abnormal economic situations and therefore produced failures.

According to the Dun and Bradstreet survey, the principal causes of failure are lack of experience in the line and general incompetence. These are obvious reasons which in no way reflect unfavorably on the economic system.

Under capitalism, success cannot be guaranteed. That is what is so fundamentally wrong with the R.F.C. When the government bolsters obsolescence, it does not benefit anyone except the incompetent. It would, from the capitalist standpoint, be preferable for the business to fail and to have someone take it over who is capable of greater efficiency and managerial skill. Similarly, when the government creates new businesses by government loans, as in the various Kaiser enterprises it serves no whole-some purpose, as it is a defiance of the concept that the enterpriser takes his own risks.

It is to be noted that year by year, the lines of business that produce the largest number of failures are retail food and liquor stores and eating and drinking places. It would be interesting to analyze the causes for this. Are these businesses especially attractive to incompetents? These are

Inside Washington

Washington — The nation's military and political leaders are convinced that Russia will not start World War III in order to stop the rearmament of Western Germany. Because of this belief they are speeding up the timetable for placing German infantry and armored divisions into the anti-Communist European defense setup.

The new timetable is scheduled to go into effect as soon as the Japanese peace treaty conference in San Francisco is out of the way. The aim is to have the Bonn government admitted to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization before the 1952 presidential election, a prospect that appeals strongly to the White House.

The first step will be to grant Western Germany a large measure of sovereignty on a "contractual" basis, so rearmament need not wait for a peace treaty to be signed. The Bonn government has demanded a certain amount of sovereignty — with which to strengthen its position in post-war Germany — in return for 12 divisions for General Eisenhower's army.

All this recalls what Eisenhower remarked when the North Atlantic pact first came into being. He said, referring to the German attitude at that time, that he did not want any "unwilling soldiers."

The Germans are no longer "unwilling" and the Western powers are not unwilling to accept them as allies in the fight against Communism.

Atomic Sub — Despite the Navy's recent announcement that it has placed an order for an atomic submarine, atomic transportation for civilians is still around many a corner. The most optimistic experts believe it will be 20 or 30 years before nuclear fission replaces gasoline in your car.

A long period of unthreatened world peace would speed up this schedule. At any rate, the fact that the submarine order has been placed indicates top officials are convinced atomic transportation is feasible on the things of others.

"Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus, who, being in the form of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God; but made Himself of no reputation, and took upon Himself the form of a servant; and was made in the likeness of men; and being found in fashion as a man, He humbled Himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross."

licensed enterprises, often requiring several different licenses. One would imagine that government agencies would select especially competent persons to whom to grant licenses, or is it just the opposite, namely, that often the licenses are obtained by fraud, corruption and partisan politics?

The statistics which Dun and Bradstreet have compiled can only lead to one conclusion and that is that the United States remains sound no matter what politicians do to disturb its economy. Taxes limit and can in time dry up the reserves of new capital by reducing the amount that the individual can save to put into new enterprises. Similarly, the depreciation of the currency, often called inflation, can and does reduce savings. Yet, somehow, Americans do save and they do invest and they do take risks. They want to be their own bosses.

As long as this attitude remains among our people, we shall not have too much cause to fear the consequences of the leveling and socialist tendencies of government. As long as the ambition to be one's own boss, to wear no man's collar, continues among our people, we shall not be reduced to the unwholesome level of socialism. It is when men think in terms of getting able. Other types of atomic vessels or vehicles are sure to be produced eventually, with atomic-propelled warships and aircraft first on the agenda.

However, it will take at least two years to build the sub and five to 10 years more to develop any other kind of nuclear-powered transportation.

More Shavetails — One of the most important by-products of the current defense effort as far as Washington government girls are concerned is the increased supply of second lieutenants and ensigns. Despite their comparatively low service pay, these officers have much to commend them — youth and marital eligibility.

The shavetails are coming thick and fast out of Army and Marine officer candidate schools. The ensigns are being commissioned in greater numbers from among the Navy reservists in college.

To the government girls, who outnumber eligible males in Washington, this means more dates and, to repeat, higher morale.

The Revenooers — Officials of the Bureau of Internal Revenue are highly indignant over published reports that more illegal liquor is being sold today than during prohibition and that there is more bootleg whisky around than legal, tax-paid whiskey.

Where do you think this country would be today if it hadn't been for the pioneers who wanted to get away from religious and other prejudices, from the injustice of existing conditions, and carve out a new future for themselves and their offspring?

Away back in the days of the Bible, Paul went on many travels to carry the gospel of Christ to other peoples.

"Thrice I suffered, shipwreck, a night and a day I have been in the deep," he said in "Corinthians," "in journeyings often, in perils of waters, in perils of robbers, in perils by my own countrymen, in perils by the heathen, in perils in the city, in perils in the wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren; in weariness and painfulness in watchings often, in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, in cold and nakedness."

I think I can guarantee the Bridgeport fellow's nephew and his friends that their trip will not be nearly as rugged or as lonely as Paul's.

Incidentally, I am glad to see that many of our Congressmen and Senators are now going on little jaunts to Europe and Asia.

It is only by personal contact that one understands other lands, other customs, other people. Or, as Samuel Johnson said: "Let observations with extensive view; Survey mankind from China to Peru; Remark each anxious toil, each eager strife, And watch the busy scenes of crowded life."

on a safe payroll, of flinging some road to what they call security, that our way of living can be imperilled and even destroyed. For there can be no security without slavery.

This the Europeans are slowly discovering. It was Bismarck who introduced social security in Germany, advised by Ferdinand Lassalle, adopting the demands of the Marxists and translating them into a paternalistic gift from government. Yet, his entire structure of security collapsed after World War I and a people unused to risk turned to Hitler as a savior. The price they had to pay for the fallacy of security has been unbearably high.

It could be said that the failure was not due to the system of social security but to war. Actually, the need for constant war, for unending emergencies is inevitable in a system which promises more than any government can provide. That the Germany of Bismarck, the Kaiser and Hitler attempted; that the Socialist government of Great Britain is now trying bolstered up by American dollars. Germany failed; the British Socialists will collapse when they are no longer subsidized by the United States. But American capitalism sustains itself by the ingenuity of those who take risks.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Good thing we have the weekend to digest the social news because the pot's really boiling now. Clubs, church groups, welfare agencies, and special interest groups are all losing their special seasoning in, and the result is going to be something.

Something pretty special, maybe, if everybody contributes just a little of his time to the things he's most interested in. And something pretty hectic if you leave the job to the same old faithful—and overworked—few.

Each organization contributes its own special service to the community. For parents of school children, the PTA is a must, but you shouldn't expect the PTA officers to be community chest solicitors, Girl Scout leaders, and Sunday school teacher, too.

We've got to have Red Cross first aid instructors if we're to feel secure in our civil defense, but you shouldn't ask the same person to arrange the Junior Women's club fashion show, act as program chairman for the club, and give a five minute radio talk in the interest of your favorite charity.

But that's what happens most of the time, and it shouldn't. If each one of you would volunteer to do just one big job in one organization that you really believe in—and do that job well, we'd have Utopia. And what's more you'd sleep better nights.

Red Cross Volunteers Cited For Excellent Service Here

The volunteers who serve the Monroe County chapter of the American Red Cross are in excellent shape to care for an anticipated response to the blood donor appeal expected from the nation-wide Civilian Defense appeal for more blood for civilian defense and military needs to be launched next week.

The local body of directors and executive committee, heard at their meeting last night at Red Cross headquarters.

The mobile blood units which have visited Monroe county for more than a year, hail the local chapter as the most fully and efficiently manned in the area. LeRoy Mikels, blood donor chairman for the county, reported.

He also reported that three mobile unit visits had been made in August to Pocono Lake, Camp Tamiment and Buck Hill Cottage colony, and that 187 pints had been contributed. Of that amount, 150 were new donors which replaced the amount of blood used at the hospital for patients from outside the area during the year. This county has contributed a total of 1,189 pints since January 1951.

Further evidence of the efficiency of the local volunteers was heard in the report of Mrs. LeRoy J. Koehler, volunteer service chairman. In August, 84 volunteers gave 989 and a quarter hours of service.

The blood bank visits took 53 volunteers 430 and a half hours; the hospital took 40 volunteers 525 hours; the West End Fair, 2 nurses contributed their time for 24 hours; and two staff assistants gave 9 hours service for the chapter.

Nelson Westbrook, First Aid chairman, moved that letters of appreciation be sent to Mrs. Thomas Shuenmuth and Mrs. George Smith for their volunteer services in treating first aid cases at the fair.

He also announced an increasing demand for qualified First Aid instructors for civil defense in the community and in the schools, and announced a refresher course for any members of the community who had completed advanced first aid or were former instructors. This preliminary course will begin September 10, he announced by a national representative the week of August 24.

Mrs. Ida B. Kunkle, executive secretary, gave the home service report which showed that 26 cases had been handled during the month, including 14 new cases and 21 small services rendered, not counted as cases.

Twenty-two of the cases concerned men in active service or

Migratory Waterfowl Hunting Rules Eased

Liberalized migratory waterfowl hunting regulations for 1951 will give Pennsylvania hunters five additional shooting days over last year. Game protectors Paul L. Failer and John Doebbing said yesterday. Bag and possession limits for ducks, however, will remain the same as in 1950.

For the first time since 1936 brant shooting will be allowed. The period is October 12 to October 20, inclusive, with a daily bag and possession limit of three. The coot bag limit for this year has been reduced from 15 to 10.

The 1951 season for ducks, geese and coots within the states extends from October 12 to November 24, inclusive. The daily limit of ducks is four, the possession limit is eight after the first day. The limit on geese—except snow geese—is a two day and two in possession.

Shooting hours for waterfowl are: October 12, and from 12 noon to one hour before sunset. October 13 to October 31, inclusive, from one-half hour before sunrise to one hour before sunset. November 1 only, 9 a. m. to one hour before sunset. November 2 to November 24, 7 a. m. to one hour before sunset.

Regulations for migratory waterfowl hunting during the 1951 season have been approved by Secretary of the Interior Oscar L. Chapman. This is in accordance with a law that makes effective treaties relating to birds migrating between the United States, Canada and Mexico.

Rules were recommended by the Fish and Wildlife Service following extensive investigations in cooperation with 25 states, the Canadian Wildlife Service, all Canadian Provinces and in connection with breeding ground surveys made along the Arctic coast of Canada and Alaska.

It is unlawful for a person over the age of 16 years to take migratory waterfowl unless he carries on his person an unexpired Federal migratory bird-hunting stamp, validated by his signature written in ink across the face of it. A Pennsylvania hunting license is also required to hunt migratory birds, including waterfowl. Waterfowl may be taken through the use of shotguns only, not larger than 10 gauge.

Of further interest to hunters, the game protectors noted, is the 1951 woodcock season which will run from October 8 to November 6, inclusive. As last year, the daily limit set by Federal authorities is four, the possession limit after the first day is eight.

From October 8 to October 31, inclusive, shooting hours will be from one half hour before sunrise until sunset. On November 1 only, the opening day of small game season, the hours will be 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. From November 2 to November 6, inclusive, woodcock shooting hours will be 7 a. m. to 5 p. m., but in no instance after sunset. Federal migratory bird-hunting (duck) stamp is not required of woodcock hunters, but a 1951 Pennsylvania hunting license is.

Pocono A. C. Invades Roseto In Playoff Contest

Line Troubles Confront Stroudsburg Grid Coach One Week Away From Bangor Battle

Stroudsburg High school's grid machine has less than a week remaining in which to prepare for its opening game of the 1951 football season against Bangor High, on the latter's home field next Friday, at 8 p. m.

Coach Jerry Stulgaitis is plainly disturbed over the condition of his team at the present time, especially the forward wall, which hasn't lived up to expectations thus far in pre-season practice.

Stulgaitis stated last night that his linemen aren't sharp and aren't using their size to the best advantage possible at this point in the practice grind.

The Stroudsburg grid mentor summed up his feelings as follows: "The boys we expected to look good this year are looking bad, and the ones we didn't expect much from are making us look twice at this early date."

Even though the Stroudsburg line is causing Stulgaitis plenty of concern, the popular grid mentor breaks out in a broad grin when his backfield is mentioned. Barring injuries, the Maroon and White mail will be carried this season by either Dick Schmidt or Ben Miller at the quarterback post, Alden "Red" Fetherman and Karl Weingartner at the half backs and Dave Shook will operate out of the fullback slot. Weingartner is a converted end, while Shook held down a tackle post last season.

Dick Campeotto, a tackle, has reportedly impressed Stulgaitis as much as anyone on the front wall destined to represent the Mountaineers this season. Campeotto was a member of the squad but saw very little service last season, Jim Driebe, is also looking good in the forward wall, showing plenty of spirit and drive in the pre-season grind.

Two definite battles for positions are raging on the squad at the present time. The veteran Don Stone is struggling with Dan Berman for the center post, while Al Adelman and Russ Bachman are fighting it out for the right end job.

Stroudsburg will present plenty of size all along the forward wall, but the W. Main St. grid mentor maintains that his club isn't ready for a team of Bangor's calibre at this early date.

Defending Title Holders Eliminated

Shawnee-on-Delaware — New title holders were a certainty in the sixth annual Waite Memorial tournament here at Shawnee Inn today, as Billy Haverstick and Ev Hetsland, last year's championship twosome, was dropped by the way-side in the quarter-final round yesterday afternoon.

They lost a four and three decision to Tommy Sheehan, Detroit, and Lynn Creason, Harrisburg. They had eliminated Ed Vert, Indianapolis, and Bill Goldthorpe, Philadelphia, in the morning.

Two of the quarter final matches went extra holes before decisions were rendered. Ray Billows, Staatsburg, N. Y., and Harvey Ward, Tarboro, N. C., battled 21 holes with Bob Babbish, Detroit, and Billy Hyndman, Abington, Pa., before winning with a par four. Lloyd Martz, Detroit, and "Buddy" Lutz, Reading, went 22 holes to defeat Ed Vaughan, Chatham, N. Y., and Bob Bardner, Los Angeles.

Eliminated

In another quarter final match Tommy Goodwin, Rye, N. Y., and Jack Mahaffey, Pittsburgh eliminated Tom Pacifico, Montclair, N. J., and Hobart Manley, Savannah, Ga.

Today Sheehan and Creason meet Billows and Ward, while Goodwin and Mahaffey tee off against Martz and Lutz.

In the morning rounds two highly-favored golfers, playing in different twosomes, were eliminated. Howard Eveitt, Atlantic City, N. J., teamed with Johnny Hare, Philadelphia, lost one-up to Vaughan, and Gardner.

A second top-ranked Atlantic City star, Bo Waininger, paired with Don Cherry, New York City, however, two-up to Goodwin and Jack Mahaffey.

Hyndman and Babbish, reached the quarter finals on the Shawnee course with a two and one victory over Walt Tynan, New York, and Sam Penecole, Philadelphia.

In the National Old Masters Division, Clark Esple, Indianapolis, defeated Egon "Eggs" Quittner, Philadelphia, and John Roberts, Columbus, O., in a semi-final match that went 20 holes.

Today's tournament action is listed for both morning and afternoon rounds.

Entries

At the present time 40 entries have been received, but more may still enter the contest today.

A movie of a recent scotch-four some tournament at the local club will also be shown tomorrow night, following a buffet supper.

Died Of Head Injuries

New York (AP)—A physician for the State Athletic Commission said boxer George Floss died as a result of an injury suffered when his head hit the ring floor in a Madison Square Garden bout.

"There was absolutely no prior injury to the brain," said Dr. Vincent A. Nardello at a public hearing conducted by the commission yesterday.

While sweeping their three-game series with the Tribesmen, the second-place Giants clicked off their twenty-third win in their last 26 starts. For Jansen, sidelined for eight days with an

Large Field Of Cars Listed For Delaware Valley Track

Russ Dodd, Middletown, N. Y., winner of last week's feature race at the Delaware Valley Speedway, is expected to return to the half-mile dirt oval to try to make it two straight tomorrow. Dodd was only one of several Middletown drivers to feature last week's stock car program, as the New Yorkers dominated virtually every race on the card.

A large field of speed merchants are expected to be on hand to force Dodd to his very best, if he hopes to run his winning luck to two straight.

Sanctioned

Tomorrow's program, as was last Monday's, will be sanctioned by the Atlantic Stock Car racing association, a group that guarantees an outstanding array of racing talent on each card.

Among the outstanding drivers expected to put in an appearance tomorrow are Otto Harvi, Easton; Ray Fleming, Bethlehem; Joe and George Roamer, Middletown, N. Y.; Joe Cryan, Oxford, N. J., and Russ Eggert, Mt. Pocono.

The dirt track, specially treated to cut down on dust, is located near the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg airport, on Route 209. There is plenty of parking space available and refreshments may be purchased during the races.

Golf Action At Pocono Manor

Pocono Manor—Some of the top golf professionals will take part in a pro-member tournament to be held here tomorrow.

Steele To Attempt To Clinch Title

Ray Steele, lanky right hander, will attempt to pitch Pocono A.C. to the playoff championship of the Blue Mountain league tomorrow, when the charges of Manager John Schoonover stack up against Roseto A.A., on the latter's home grounds. The second of the best two-out-of-three series is scheduled for Roseto Park, at 2 p. m.

Pocono A. C. won the first game of the present playoff more than a week ago, by a 4-0 count on the East Bangor field. However, last Sunday's scheduled contest was washed down the drain by rain. No twilight affairs were listed during the week, because of the shortness of playing time, due to the earlier arrival of darkness.

Lineups

The A. C. contingent will probably open the game with the same lineup that carried the club into second place in the final regular season standings. The means that John Drew will handle the catching department, while Danny Eppley operates at first base; Dewey Martling, second base; Jim Werkheiser, shortstop, and Tom "Lem" Bonser at third. The outfield will find Doug Schoonover in left; Bob Schick, center, and either Alden "Red" Fetherman or Dick Schaller in right, depending on whether a left hander or right hander pitches for Roseto.

Roseto will undoubtedly send its ace to the hill, in Bob "Lefty" Muhr, although Tom Foley, a right hander, is a possibility. Muhr dropped the first game of the playoff grind to the Schoonovermen.

Football Meeting

Roseto—The Roseto Redskins, one of the outstanding independent football teams in the area, will hold a reorganizational meeting on Monday, at 8 p. m. The meeting is listed for the Marconi Social club and all interested parties are urged to attend.

Pirates Purchase Iott

Pittsburgh, (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday purchased southpaw pitcher Clarence Eugene Iott from St. Petersburg of the Florida International League on a conditional basis.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Eyes of many football followers of the Monroe County area will be on the East Stroudsburg High school grid machine this year, especially Don France, a senior who is expected to see plenty of action on the forward wall for the Cavaliers. Don, who also played on the Eastburg baseball club last season, is giving the full sport its first try and already has virtually assured himself of a position that will see him in plenty of action against the eight foes to be encountered by the Cavaliers this season.

France came out for the team this year, at the request of Coach Jack Kist. Kist saw the possibilities in the youngster and was certain that he could help the purple and white grid machine in its quest for its first successful campaign in its regular football history. However, the remarkable part about France's success is the fact that the youngster once suffered infantile paralysis and even now walks and runs with a slight limp. Spirit—there is absolutely no substitutes.

Speaking of spirit brings to mind the fact that Stroudsburg High also has a lineman that is drawing down plenty of rave notices at the present time, namely Dick Campeotto. Dick was a member of the maroon and white clad squad last year, but saw very little action. Thus, the youngster wasn't expected to show much during the present practice session. However, Coach Jerry Stulgaitis has been pleasantly surprised by Campeotto's play and it appears as if the youngster may nail down a first team berth if he continues his spirited play.

The Ed Eisenhower playing in the Old Masters golf tournament at Shawnee is a brother to General "Ike". Ed is from Tacoma, Wash. Frank Elliott, an annual player in the Waite Memorial tourney, on the same course, is president of the Borden Milk Co., one of the largest in the country. Last year Elliott played with Frank Urzetta, defending National Amateur champion. The Bob Davies eliminated from the Waite Memorial on Thursday is the same gentleman who plays such an outstanding game of basketball with the Rochester Royals, who in turn gave Rev. Ernest Campbell's New York Knickerbocker's a 4-3 beating in the National Basketball Association playoffs last season.

Several interests are attempting to revive semi-pro or out-of-school football in Monroe County again this season. A meeting for this purpose will be held at the Indian Queen Hotel Monday night, at 7. This type of football has been missing from the local scene since Pocono A. C. called it quits in mid-season last year, due to the lack of playing material. Injuries and the call to arms made it tough fielding a team weekend after weekend.

Milt Ross, assistant golf pro at Shawnee, and holder of the record low for the course, a 66, finishes his duties today. The likeable Ross returns to California by car to take over his golf position at the Mare Island club, in the San Francisco area. Ross hasn't been able to squeeze 18 holes of golf in with his regular duties at Shawnee since that history making day, so takes leave of the Shawnee fairways for one year with pleasant memories of the course which shot him into golfing prominence.

George Pfister, who managed the Hazleton entry in the North Atlantic League when the circuit was still alive back in 1950, will draw down his share of the $10,000 kitty Montreal captures for winning the International League pennant. The former North Atlantic League pilot has done a lot of the catching for the Montreal club throughout the campaign just completed.

A's Split Bargain Bill To Snap Boston's Win Streak

Philadelphia (AP)—Philadelphia snapped Boston's six game winning streak with an 11-4 victory here last night after the Red Sox had copped an 8-5 decision in the first game of a two-night doubleheader.

Two big innings—four runs in each of the third and fourth frames—scarried Philadelphia to its win as they pounced on four Boston choppers for 15 hits which included Eddie Joost's sixteenth home run of the season.

Veteran Billy Hitchcock paved the way for the A's triumph with four hits, two of which were triples, as he drove in five runs.

Indians Skid Into Number Two Spot

St. Louis (AP)—The Cleveland Indians skidded out of the American League lead by splitting a two-light doubleheader last night with the St. Louis Browns. Cleveland won the nightcap 7-0 after the Browns took the opener 4-2.

The split enabled the New York Yankees, who defeated Washington in a single game, to take the lead over Cleveland by a single percentage point.

Bob Feller, the leading pitcher of the majors, turned in a seven-hit performance in shutting out the Browns for his twenty-second victory against seven defeats.

But the damage had already been done. The Browns ace Ned Garver, returning to winning form, pitched the Browns to a victory in the opener, thus shoving Cleveland out of first place in the red hot pennant struggle.

It was the sixteenth victory against 11 defeats for Garver, who had been beaten in his last three starts. Mike Garcia, who had beaten the last-place Browns five times earlier in the season, was charged with the defeat, his 11th against 18 victories.

Striking out eight and walking four, Feller pitched no-hit ball for three and a third innings of the nightcap. The first hits off him was a single by Hank Arft.

Lead

The Indians built up a five-run lead in the first three innings. Tommy Byrne, who started for the Browns, was replaced by Jim Suchi after Cleveland scored the fifth marker on successive singles by Luke Easter, Bob Kennedy and Ike Boone in the third.

At Rosen singled in two runs in the first, after Cleveland loaded the bases on singles by Dale Mitchell and Bob Avila on a walk. Two more walks by Byrne and Avila's double were good for two more runs in the second.

Rosen doubled in the seventh and later scored on an outfield fly. Easter scored the final run when he doubled in the ninth, moved to third on a single and made it home on a double play.

In the opener, the Browns ganged up on Garcia for three runs in the first, two of them scoring on Cliff Mape's sixth homer of the season. Garver scored the fourth run when he doubled in the fifth, moved to third on a grounder and scored on an outfield fly by Matt Batts.

Cardinals Roll Over Pirates

Pittsburgh, (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals pounded out 13 hits to defeat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 11-4, last night at Forbes Field.

Bill Johnson hit a three-run homer for the Cards in the third inning, his thirteenth of the season. It was the Cards' tenth victory in 11 games.

Lifted

Tom Poholsky, who started for St. Louis, was lifted in the fifth inning after the Pirates touched him for five successive singles with nobody out. All four Bue runs were charged against him. Dick Bokelman retired the next three men in order and yielded only one hit for the rest of the game. He got credit for the victory.

Don Carlson, the Bue starter, gave up seven hits and seven runs in two and two-thirds innings and was charged with the loss.

"Red" Schoendienst featured in the Cards' offensive play, getting a double, a single and a walk and scoring three runs.

Post-Season Series Sated To Begin

Four clubs will tangle in the opening rounds of post-season play-offs in the Pocono Mountains league starting tomorrow, on two different fronts. Each game is scheduled to get underway at 2 p.m.

Kunkletown, the number one club in the final regular season standings, will play host to Ananokim, the third place organization.

Asher Smith will probably do the pitching for the regular season champions in this contest, with Jim Correll or Dick Miller the most likely to take over the mound for the visiting Ananokim contingent.

Mize, DiMaggio Deliver In Clutch To Give Yankees Favorable Decision Over Senators

New York (AP)—The New York Yankees' great clutch-hitting veterans—Johnny Mize and Joe DiMaggio—each delivered a two-out double in the ninth inning yesterday as the world champions, facing a costly defeat, rallied for three runs to nip the Washington Senators, 4 to 2.

Mize, acting as a pinchhitter, tied the score at 2-2 with a double to right. Then DiMaggio sent the winning runs across the plate with a ground-rule double.

It was a tough setback for Sid Hudson, Washington's tall right-hander. Going into the ninth, he had given up eight hits but was magnificent in the pinches, holding the Yankees to only one run. Washington picked up two runs in the third inning on Eddie Yost's home run and an error by Yankee third baseman Bobby Brown. Hudson made this slim advantage hold up until the fatal ninth.

Opens Frame

Joe Collins opened the ninth for the Yankees by hitting a 3-2 pitch to centerfield for a single.

Gerry Coleman batted for Alie Reynolds, who was credited with his fourteenth triumph, and moved Collins to second with a bunt.

With the tying run at second, Hudson bore down and struck out celebrated Mickey Mantle, swinging.

But Hudson never got the third out.

Mize batted for Phil Rizzuto and, with some 10,827 fans cheering him on, tied up the game with a double to right.

Gene Woodling beat out a hit to deep short and Billy Martin, running for Mize, took third.

With DiMaggio up, Hudson took a full windup and Woodling raced to second without drawing a throw. The Senators were banking everything on getting the Yankee Clipper.

Racing At West End

Gilbert — Stock car racing returns to the West End Speedway here tomorrow, with five events on the agenda. The first qualifying heat is scheduled to get underway at 2:30 p.m.

Tomorrow's program calls for five events to be run, namely three qualifying heats, a consolation grind and the feature event.

Large Field

A large field of cars is expected to campaign in this version of the weekly stock car affair, with a top notch struggle anticipated for the feature laurels.

The half-mile dirt oval is located on Route 209 near the Caroline Ranch and not far from the West End Fair grounds.

American Golfers Down Canadians

Bethlehem (AP)—Young Sam Uzzetta, of Rochester, N. Y., the National Amateur champion, led United States Walker Cup forces to a resounding 10-2 victory over Canada yesterday in an informal golf match that may be a prelude to regular golf competition between the two countries.

The 25-year-old stylist fashioned par golf over Saucun Valley's testing 6,979-yard course to defeat the New Canadian champion, Walter McElroy, two and one.

Impressive Win

Uzzetta also teamed with Harold Paddock, of Cleveland, to score the most impressive victory in the Scotch foursome play, subduing Don Doe and 13-year-old Laurie Roland, four and three.

Haluska Says Tax 'Deal' Under Way

Harrisburg (AP) — Sen. John J. Haluska (D-Cambria) said a "deal" is under way to break down Democratic opposition to Gov. John S. Fine's proposal for a one-half of one per cent income tax. He disclosed Democratic senators were contacted by Sen. John H. Dent, Democratic floor leader, on the possibility of withdrawing objections to the levy if the Republican administration agrees to expand a labor program. Dent, although denying a possible "trade" of Democratic votes, told newsmen that the $119,000,000 income levy may have to be supported to insure against the breakdown in the Commonwealth's financing of an education program.

"Dent is talking for himself and not for the Democratic party in my estimation," said Haluska. "I am still against the income tax and will continue to be."

Haluska said Dent and Sen. Samuel G. Neff (D-Beaver) are asking the 20-vote Democratic bloc in the Senate to go along on the controversial income levy if improvements can be made to jobless benefits and workmen's compensation bills now in the Legislature. "He and Neff have been throwing a few curve balls among Democratic senators to trade passage of the income tax for an improvement in the administration's labor program," said Haluska. "As far as I know the labor leaders are against the idea and so am I."

Haluska said the improvements involve increasing the maximum weekly unemployment compensation benefits from $25 a week to $32 a week instead of to $28 a week as proposed by the administration.

In addition, said Haluska, the so-called "deal" would involve administrative support of the day base plan in determining unemployment compensation payments and removing the requirement that a workman be disabled solely by a job-acquired illness to qualify for occupational disease benefits.

The day-base plan, supported by the United Mine Workers, would permit the payment of jobless benefits to workers who are employed only a day or two a week.

The income tax has been continuously opposed by Democrats since first proposed by the administration last May. Democrats joined with rebel Republicans in killing the bill in the Senate Finance committee.

The action has created a tax impasse that has extended the present session of the Legislature into the longest since 1779. But a switch of half the Democratic votes—or about 16—could insure passage of the income tax in the upper chamber. Meanwhile, the House has come up with an undisclosed compromise program which will be presented to the House GOP caucus next Monday. It is designed to raise $138,000,000 as a substitute for the income tax.

House leaders, although declining to comment on the Democratic development, said the House caucus will go on as scheduled next week.

The Legislature reconvenes here September 17 after a recess of nearly a month.

BACK IN THE MARINE CORPS AGAIN, Sgt. Robert J. Ward, 25, a Cherokee Indian, tries on a helmet issued at Camp Pendleton, Calif., by Pfc. Buck Hoonan. Ward is a veteran of Korean fighting. He was discharged after an appeal by his mother, Mrs. Glenn B. Peterson, of Los Angeles, who lost two sons in World War Two, that her only surviving boy be released from front-line duty. Although his wife is expecting a baby, the Marine returns to service with his mother's consent, but this time he will train others for combat on the Korean front.

Maria Montez, Fiery Film Actress, Dies In Bathtub; Heart Attack Believed Cause

Paris (AP) — Fiery Maria Montez, beautiful Latin screen star, died yesterday in a bathtub of her palatial home in Suresnes, a Paris suburb. She was 31 years old.

Physicians said they believed death was caused by a heart attack while the glamorous actress—proud that her figure never topped 125 pounds—was taking her daily bath in extremely hot water mixed with reducing salts.

But the possibility of an accidental drowning following a heart attack was not entirely ruled out.

A hard worker in Hollywood and continental studios who had just completed her 28th film, Maria complained Wednesday about a touch of heart trouble.

"I'd better watch that," she remarked, half jokingly, "because it might end up by playing me a dirty trick."

She was found unconscious in the bath by her sister, Anita. Only her forehead was above water. Anita called a doctor and firemen. The firemen used artificial respiration for three hours in a vain effort to resuscitate the auburn-haired, brown-eyed actress.

Maria in real life was the wife of Jean-Pierre Aumont, a French movie star who sometimes played opposite her. He was at work on location when she died. Their young daughter was not in the house when her mother died.

The actress and her two sisters, Teresita and Anita, were planning to lunch together. Maria said she wanted to take her hot bath first because she was going to Paris in the afternoon.

The block signal system would permit the changing of the speed limit to 50 or 30 miles per hour in danger area. The conference members witnessed an experimental model of the signals in action yesterday on the turnpike.

The suggestion for reduced speed limits ran counter to the stand taken by the Turnpike Commission.

"Speed is not the basic cause of the safety problem on our highway," said Commissioner Edward N. Jones, conference chairman. Only passenger cars are permitted the maximum 70 mph speed.

Trucks and buses are limited to 50 miles per hour on the 270-mile toll road from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh.

Answering the suggestion for more police patrols, Jones said it cost the commission an estimated $10,000 annually for each State police patrolman assigned to the turnpike. He said one solution might be having uniformed turnpike employees authorized to order unsafe drivers and vehicles from the high-speed road.

There are 32 troopers assigned to the turnpike, Smith said.

Keep Guard Home, Says Gen. Curtis

Allentown (AP) — A Brigadier General of the Pennsylvania National Guard, who recently returned to inactive status, called yesterday for a "sweeping change" in armed forces policies toward the guard.

The National Guard should be left at home as a defense force for the states, Brig. Gen. Charles Curtis told the Allentown Rotary club. The policy of federalizing National Guard divisions and units to bolster the regular forces "is out of date," he said.

"The time is here when the National Guard should become a real home guard," General Curtis said. "That action might save our necks."

Guardsmen are needed at home in any emergency, Curtis went on, for controlling traffic, supervising civilian defense, guarding against subversive activities and for anti-aircraft defense.

Should the present policy be changed, then the regular armed forces should be expended proportionately, Curtis added, to insure adequate strength for national defense.

Curtis, veteran of both World Wars One and Two, was recalled to active duty when the 51st Anti-Aircraft Brigade was federalized last year following the outbreak of the Korean War. He was released at his own request several weeks ago, and has resumed his civilian post as advertising director of the Allentown Call-Chronicle newspapers.

Curtis criticized "extravagance in high places" in the armed forces, remarking that in the past 10 years he had never seen any concerted action toward economy. He recalled that during that time he had not seen any large unit up to its table of organization strength in manpower and equipment for more than a few weeks, but invariably found that high headquarters were overstaffed.

Pennsylvania has furnished more National Guardsmen called to active duty than any other two states, Curtis said. He pointed out that the state had paid for equipping and training these men, now must seek home guard replacement at additional cost.

He said that he personally would welcome the title of "home guard," contending that the unfavorable reaction to that title which has existed for many years should be erased in the light of present day defense needs.
